- Risk Management (risk assessment and control)
- Environmental Management (awareness and management of environmental issues)
- Workplace Communication (methods of communication, giving and receiving instructions and teamwork)
- Customer Service (service standards, meeting customer needs and managing aggressive behaviour)
- Site Management and Maintenance (Site and waste monitoring, traffic control, maintaining waste management plan)
- Management Systems (implementing a management system)

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

By completing this training program you will:

- Gain recognition for your current skills and experience
- Learn new skills
- Obtain a nationally recognised qualification which is becoming the standard for the Recycling & Waste Management sectors.

WHAT WILL IT INVOLVE?

You are entering into an arrangement combining paid work with training which involves:

- Training activities organised into 8 modules
- Training that addresses real work issues
- Project activities will be specific to your job
- Training materials specific to the industry
- Assessments based on real work to meet the performance requirements of your job.

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE?

The maximum term to complete the qualification is 24 months. The training is competency based and therefore the training program can be completed as soon as you reach the required skill level.

WHAT ABOUT MY CURRENT SKILLS & EXPERIENCE?

The first step is to determine your current skill level and experience and identify which areas will require further training to enable you to obtain the qualification.

WHEN DO I START?

As soon as a Training Plan has been agreed by your employer and Into Training Australia.
